

ENSIGN COLLEGE

Admissions Guide

2022-2023

Ensign College is developing capable and trusted disciples of Jesus Christ.

Our students are equipped with practical power as they develop:

Market-Ready Skills
Character
Confidence
Competence

The College is named after Ensign Peak. On July 26, 1847, two days after arriving in the Salt Lake Valley, Brigham Young and several other men hiked to the top of a mountain he had seen in vision prior to beginning the trek west. From their vantage point, one thousand feet above the valley floor, Brigham Young described his vision and the men “began to lay plans for the future city.” That spot, Ensign Peak, rises just north of where the College is located. It was given that name because it was a symbol of the “spirit of international outreach and the ancient promise that here one could learn the ways of God.” Throughout its history, Ensign College, now located in the shadow of Ensign Peak, has provided such an environment.

Our Location

ABOUT US

Ensign College provides a comprehensive education in an atmosphere consistent with the ideals and principles of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. This atmosphere is created and preserved through commitment to Church ideals and principles by our students, staff, faculty, and administration.

Located in downtown Salt Lake City, just two blocks west of Temple Square, the campus provides students with many opportunities to connect with the local community through shopping, concerts, sports, and many other activities.

Thanks to small class sizes (21:1 student-to-teacher ratio), students can form friendships throughout their time at the College.

Free UTA passes allow enrolled students to commute to campus through Bus, Trax, or the Frontrunner.

Each year 2,200 students come to Ensign College.

Teaching & Learning

What is so different about the experience you'll have at Ensign College? You'll be immersed in learning environments where you'll act as agents of your own learning. As you learn in Spirit-centered classrooms, you'll be invited to study and learn by faith as you seek the gifts of the Spirit to change and become responsible for your learning, developing as a capable and trusted disciple of Jesus Christ.

As a learner at Ensign College, you will—

Prepare to develop and demonstrate professional capabilities.

Act as an agent of your learning in an immersive learning environment, resulting in Deep Learning—to know, do, and become.

Demonstrate how your journey to become a capable and trusted disciple of Jesus Christ has changed and shaped you to embrace future opportunities with confidence, resiliency, and faith.

President Bruce C. Kusch has said, "This campus-wide initiative helps students to discover how to learn more deeply. One pattern for deep learning, called subject matter immersion (SMI), creates an environment in which the student is immersed, covered and surrounded by the course content rather than merely being presented with it by the instructor. Assignments revolve around real-life challenges, including tasks they will face in the workplace. Students are responsible for defining how they demonstrate subject mastery, thus improving their leadership and problem-solving capabilities."

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Ensign College is home to a vast population of international students from around the globe. We welcome you.

To receive a Form I-20 “Certificate of Eligibility for Nonimmigrant Student Status.”, international students will need:

- a valid passport
- pay a deposit
- prove financial support

The I-20 is necessary to pay the I-901 SEVIS fee, apply for an F-1 visa, and travel to the United States.

If you have a current I-20 and want to transfer to Ensign College, you will follow many of the same steps for an initial I-20. You will also need to contact your current school to arrange the transfer of your SEVIS record.

Our Story

In 1886, William B. Dougall gathered several local leaders from Salt Lake City together to make an important proposal: that the youth of Salt Lake City should have a school of their own.

It was a meeting that almost didn't take place. The gathering was scheduled to occur in a bookstore owned by James Dwyer, but the night before the meeting, a fire broke out in the building. The next morning, water that had been used to put out the fire was still dripping from the destroyed roof. That could have been the end of Dougall's dream, but his group of determined, resourceful pioneers met anyway, sitting on boxes and crates in the charred, damp remains of the bookstore.

The symbolism of that meeting is extremely significant. Surrounded by the ashes of books, the gathered leaders made plans for a place of learning. The phoenix that rose from those ashes was the Salt Lake Stake Academy, now known as Ensign College.
