SUU Exception: If a student earning a 4-5 score has also taken a lab with the AP course that meets the same learning outcomes as BIOL 1615, SUU evaluates the lab experience on a case-by-case basis (student must present lab notes and reports) and may also award credit for BIOL 1615.

USU: BIOL 1610 is not a LS GenEd course at USU, is a LS at other institutions. For this reason, a 4-5 score on this AP exam will satisfy USU LS credit.

UVU: Students who have earned BIOL 1610 credit may be awarded BIOL 1010 credit for a 4-5 score on this exam.

Students earning a 4-5: See a Chemistry advisor to determine if student's chosen program of study requires credit for a different CHEM introductory course for placement in subsequent CHEM courses. This is particularly applicable for health sciences, science and engineering programs.

The AP Chemistry course/exam is not recommended for students who intend to pursue pre-med/pre-veterinary studies because many medical schools and veterinary schools will not accept Chemistry credit earned in high school. Students who earn a 4 or 5 on the AP Chemistry exam may need to retake CHEM 1210 and CHEM 1220 in college. See a Chemistry Department advisor for further information.

Students receiving CHEM 1210 credit may enroll in CHEM 1220.
